Recommended Reading for "Hatched Batch"

	Hatching Chicks in Room 6 by Caroline Arnold          Grades Pk - 2. "Follow a classroom of kindergartners as they participate in hatching chicks. An excellent addition to studies of animals, life cycles, or agriculture, as well as an excellent mentor text for the genre of photo essay and stories of classroom life." — SLJ's Classroom Bookshelf Blog  *Winner of the Cybils Award for Elementary Nonfiction
	Guess What Is Growing Inside This Egg by Mia Posada          Grades K-3. "This picture book presents six animals that hatch from eggs. Back matter shows the actual sizes of the eggs and a cross-sectional view of a duck developing within an egg. A good read-aloud for egg-related science units." --Carolyn Phelan, American Library Association
	Where Do Chicks Come From? (Let's-Read-and-Find-Out Science 1)          by Amy E Sklansky          Grades Pk- 3. "Read and find out all about eggs and how baby chicks grow inside of them. Learn how chicks develop, how they get food, and how a mother hen helps keep them safe in this simple introduction to the life cycle of a baby chick." --Jacket cover
	Whose Nest is This? by Heidi Bee Roemer          Grades Pk-3. "The amazing variety and diversity of both nests and animals and birds who create them will amaze, educate, and entertain young readers. A glossary is included. Delightful and educational, this is a must have for all libraries." --Midwest Book Review
	Eggs by Marilyn Singer          Grades 2-4. "This handsome book introduces eggs: their functions; their variety of sizes, shapes, textures, and colors; and how they protect young animals growing inside them. Appended pages carry a glossary, a note on environmental concerns, sources, bibliography, and a list of organizations working to protect wildlife." --Carolyn Phelan, Booklist
	The Book of Eggs: A Life-Size Guide to the Eggs of Six Hundred of the World's Bird Species by Mark E. Hauber          Grades 5 and up. "A visually stunning and scientifically engaging guide to six hundred of the most intriguing eggs. Readers are offered a rare, up-close look at these remarkable forms of animal life." --Jacket cover
