

Activities for "At the Pet Shop"

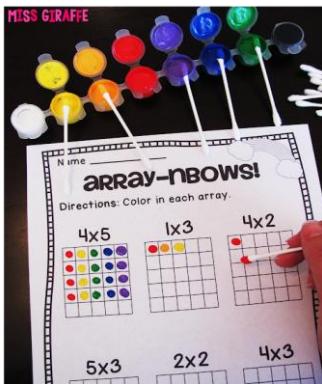

Nickel Game

Coins are a fabulous tool for all types of counting and math activities. To play this game, all you need are nickels, a few squares of paper, a marker and these instructions:

<https://bit.ly/2TcfOkt>

Check out this Let's Count Nickels worksheet, too:

<https://bit.ly/2Ye06H7>

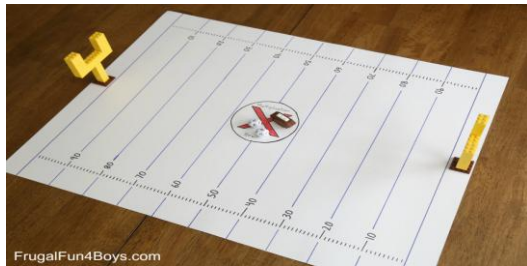

Hooray for Arrays!

Arrays are useful representations of multiplication concepts. Here's "10 Fun Ways to Teach Arrays" using a checkerboard, Twister game other familiar items. <https://bit.ly/2XwU7QQ>

Array Art!

Visual learners will especially enjoy this math-art activity. Find details at: <https://bit.ly/2Lj9Wnt>

Multiplication Football Game

What could be more fun than "playing football" while practicing multiplication? You'll need:

- Poster board
- Marker
- Ruler
- Lego football
- Lego goalposts
- Two 12-sided math dice

For instructions go to: <https://bit.ly/2RDaPZb>

Pop Top Math

Here's a new "twist" on old-fashioned flashcards-- pop lids! You'll need:

- Water, milk or pop top lids
- Round stickers
- Marker

Read all about it at Croft's Classroom: <https://bit.ly/2ZTXtuJ>