

Recommended Reading for "Heads and Tails Match-Up"

	Farm Tails: Scholastic Early Learners (Touch and Explore) by Scholastic Baby - 3 years. Farm Tails is an interactive Touch and Explore novelty book from Scholastic Early Learners. This fun, engaging title features a singsong text, five adorable cloth tails and a basic introduction to farm animals. The ideal pick for promoting early literacy! --Book jacket
	Awesome Animal Tails (Animals in My World) by Edison Booth Grades 1-2. Tapirs, crocodiles, gorillas, oh my! Beginning readers will be introduced to these and other interesting jungle creatures. Each page features accessible text paired with beautiful full-color photographs. --Book jacket
	What Do You Do with a Tail Like This? by Steven Jenkins Grades PK-3. A giraffe brushes off pesky flies with its tail. A skunk uses its tail to warn enemies to go away. Explore the many amazing things animals can do with their tails, ears, eyes, mouths, noses and feet in this interactive guessing book, beautifully illustrated in cut-paper collage, which was awarded a Caldecott Honor. --Book jacket
	Animal Tails by Beth Fielding Grades Pk-3. Tails have many functions: communicating, warning, stinging, grasping, swimming, and many more. Some tails, such as scorpion tails, have venom in them, while other tails, such as porcupine and rattlesnake tails, send visual and acoustic warnings. Fun, easy experiments illustrate the ways animal tails work, and tail tricks and trivia will amaze family and friends. Includes a glossary and index. --Book jacket
	Animal Tails by Mary Holland Grades 2-3. Animals use their tails many ways: to move on land, swim, warn others, steer, hold onto things, keep warm, balance, fly, attract a mate, and even to defend themselves! This nonfiction picture book with a cuddle factor includes a 4-page For Creative Minds section in the back of the book and a 30-page cross-curricular Teaching Activity Guide online. --Book jacket