

A Song for Spring: An Analogy Poem

by Heidi Bee Roemer

Thaw is to spring ...as frost is to fall.
Chick is to cheep...as crow is to caw.

Worm is to robin... as nut is to squirrel.
Bud is to blossom...as leaf is to curl.

Salmon is to stream... as pheasant is to grass.
Hive is to bees... as cave is to bats.

Crocus is to short... as sunflower is to tall.
Seeds are to spin... as leaves are to fall.

Peas are to pluck... as pumpkin is to hold.
April is to green... as October is to gold.
