

Activities for "Bird and Beast: Animal Comparison and Classification"

Hop To It!

Hopscotch makes it easy for kids to learn about animal classification! Draw a hopscotch diagram and fill squares with images that represent animal classifications. Call out an animal group and tell your student to throw the rock on that animal group and hop to collect her rock. For more fun learning activities, go to Mother Natured.

Kingdom: Classroom
Phylum: Students' Supplies
Class: Language Arts
Order: Reading Center
Family: Books
Genus: Chapter Books
Species: ACTUAL SIZE by Steve Jenkins

Let's Get Classy!

Mensa for Kids offers a huge variety of lesson plans and activities on Animal Classification. One uses examples such as HOUSE and SCHOOL to demonstrate how classification works: groups get smaller and smaller, ending in a single item. An excellent resource for educators!

Animal Habitats

PRINTABLE ACTIVITY WITH ANIMAL CRACKERS

Whether you are a parent, teacher, or homeschooler, you will love this low-prep kindergarten activity project. Students can practice sorting animal cracker cookies and placing them on the correct habitat card. Print and laminate the cards, pass out the animal cookies, and watch the fun learning take place!

Get your FREE printable Animal Habitats Matching Activity at kindergartenAnimalHabitatsActivity

