

Computer Tutor

by Charles Ghigna

I. Old Software

Today computers do the work
Of all our daily thinking.
The only problem now is how
To keep our brains from shrinking.

II. My Cussed Computer

My cursor's frozen on the screen.
My mouse is stuck like glue.
Another glitch and soon I will Become a cursor too.

III. Computer Eyes

Two hours staring at the screen
And I can hardly think.
My Mac is still computing,
But my eyes are on the blink.

IV. Big Mac

We see the wonders of the world:
The Earth, the sea, the sky.
We let a little screen become
The Apple of our eye.

V. Deus Ex Machina

Geeks of greed, we build machines,
Robots with computer screens.
We rush to run a losing race,
Creating things to take our place.

VI. Bar Coded

Those little lines beneath our names
Are everywhere we look.
Computers meter out our lives
And read us like a book.

CREDITS:

Video by [Student Name]
Insert photo [Optional]
Poem Copyright ©2023 by Charles Ghigna
Used with permission from the author.

FINAL SLIDE:

Visit www.SteamPoweredPoetry.com