

Hoshie and Anna Share a Banana

by Heidi Bee Roemer

"I'm hungry!" says Hoshie.

"Me, too!" says Anna.

"Let's eat a snack.

I have a banana."

"But how?" Hoshie asks.

"We only have one!"

"We'll share it," says Anna.

"Here's how it's done.

"I'll find the midpoint.

Then I'll dissect it."

"Okay." Hoshie says.

"But I'm going to check it."

She eyes the banana

as Anna cuts through it.

"Perfect!" says Hoshie.

"The halves are congruent!"

"Delicious!" says Hoshie.

"Yummy!" says Anna.

That's how the two friends shared their banana.
